Finca Cascorrales 2019
Hacienda Solano - 75 cl.

Cascorrales is one of the oldest vineyards in Ribera del Duero, planted in 1895. It is also one of Hacienda Solano's Grand Crus, together with Peña Lobera. Cascorrales shows a slightly firmer and more rustic profile compared to the elegant Peña Lobera. The very top of the appellation.

Vinification
Harvested in small crates. Fermentation in open cement vats. Only indigenous yeasts are used. Non-interventionist approach. Aged for 10 months in 500-liter barrels, followed by another 9 months in cement vats.

Storage potential
To drink from: 2023
At its best between: 2028 and 2033
Until: 2038

To serve
Best decanted in its youth. Serve in a large Bordeaux glass.

Trial analysis
Deep red colour, clean and bright. On the nose mainly red fruit, with plenty of floral notes but here especially spiciness. In the background, hints of liquorice and cocoa. On the palate, firm tannins wrapped around the red fruit, especially wild strawberries. Nice complexity with spice well integrated into the fruit. Long finish.

Description domain

Hacienda Solano is one the the smallest "boutique-wineries" in Ribera del Duero. An organic vineyard of old vines in the village of La Aguilera. For the winemaking, only concrete tanks and old foudres are used, to preserve the elegance of the wine. Elegance being also the motto of Toni Sarrion (Mustiguillo), one of the owners since 2016.
