Jarrarte Blanco 2025
Abel Mendoza - 75 cl.

Jarrarte is the second wine, alongside the white single-varietal wines Viura and Malvasía, which are produced in very limited volumes (approximately 1,200 bottles per variety). The total production of Jarrarte is around 4,000 bottles. Jarrarte means “between the stones” in Basque, a reference to the poor soils in which the vines are planted.

Vinification
Stainless steel tanks, fermentation at low temperature.

Storage potential
Drink as from : 2026
Best moment : 2026-2027
Until : 2027

To serve
12°C, not too cold. The aromas and flavours open up in the glass after swirling.

Trial analysis
A surprisingly fresh style for Rioja. All too often, white Rioja shows too much oak. Delicately aromatic, with a subtle veil of Malvasía, floral notes and a fresh, fruity entry on the palate, followed by hints of anise and ripe white fruit. Not a powerhouse in the classic white Rioja style. Rather summery and lively, with a discreet southern touch. Above all, a wine marked by a fresh backbone running through its gentle roundness.

Assembly
Garnacha Blanca, Malvasia, Tempranillo Blanco, Torrontés, Viura

Region:
La Rioja

Appellation:
D.O.C. Rioja

Wine estate:
Abel Mendoza

Description domain

This is one of the smallest estates in Rioja. Abel cares about the vines, and his spouse Maite about the winemaking. A happy combination - this estate is one of the region's hidden jewels. Their whites and reds are equally outstanding. The estate is located in San Vincente de la Sonsierra, in Rioja Alta, on the border with Rioja Alavesa.
