Foradà 2022
Javi Revert Viticultor - 75 cl.

Forada is a single vineyard that Javi Revert brought back to life in 2018. A few terraces at over 800 metres altitude, with a total surface of 2.5 hectares, all north-facing. Arcos and Garnacha are the grape varieties behind Forada. The vineyard had been neglected due to its difficult working conditions and the very low yields of the vines. The soils are poor, composed of sandstone, limestone, and pebbles.

Vinification
Alcoholic fermentation in concrete tanks with 100% whole bunches and indigenous yeasts, without temperature control, for 20 days. Malolactic fermentation also takes place in concrete, followed by 12 months of ageing in used (neutral) 500L oak barrels. Bottled without filtration.

Storage potential

To serve
Serve slightly cooled (14-15°C°) in a large glass.

Trial analysis
Medium in colour for the region. Subtle on the nose with floral notes of rose, discreet Mediterranean herbs and juicy red fruit from the Garnacha. On the palate, it's juicy and fruit-driven, but never sunny or southern in style. Arcos brings freshness, layers, peppery notes and complexity.

Wine style:
Mediterranean, elegant and mineral

Assembly
Arcos, Garnacha

Description domain

Javi Revert is a young oenologist who works with Pablo Calatayud at Celler del Roure, in Valencia. In 2014, the founded his own estate, inspired by the vineyards planted with local varieties by his grandfather and great-grandfather. All his parcels are located around his native village of La Font de la Figuera (Terres dels Alforins, in the province of Valence); they are high-altitude old vines (700-800 m above sea level) planted in field blend, between olive groves, almond trees and woods. A project which brings him back to his family roots.
