Trial analysis
The intensity of the bouquet and the depth of colour reveal a clear pursuit of optimal grape ripeness. A spicy nose of liquorice, with notes of cherries and a meaty, toasty touch. The attack is smooth and generous, with fruit tannins in the background, an abundance of red fruit, a subtle southern character, freshness, and clear terroir expression. The oak ageing is beautifully integrated into the very long finish. A complex glass that benefits from some air to reveal its refinement and elegant structure. This is not a worldly, over-concentrated fruit bomb, but a true Ribera from the high plateau.
