La Provincia 2021
Prieto Pariente - 75 cl.

This is Ignacio's and Martina's entry level wine, made with grapes from several villages of the Valladolid Province (hence the name): Mucientes and Pedrosa del Rey. Old vines from the 1924 and 1946.

Vinification
Spontaneous fermentation with natural wild yeasts, at controlled temperature. Part of the wine gets it malolactic fermentation in stainless steel tanks, another part in wooden vats. The wine is the aged in 228 and 500 litre barrels for 10 months.

Storage potential
Drink as from: 2025
Best moment: 2025-2027
Until 2030

To serve
Decant to give the wine some air.

Trial analysis
Nice bright red colour. Red fruit (raspberries) on the nose, with a hint of vanilla from the ageing in wood . Good acidity. A well-structured wine, wide and long on the palate. A lot of fruit.

Wine style:
Continental, powerful gourmet wine

Assembly
Tempranillo (55%), Garnacha (45%)

Region:
Castilla y León

Appellation:
Vino de la Tierra de Castilla y Leon

Wine estate:
Prieto Pariente

Description domain

This is the estate of Ignacio and Martina Pariente, son and daughter of Marivi Pariente, from the renowned José Pariente estate in Rueda, which produces one of Spain's most popular and famous white wine. Martina and Ignacio wanted to give a new lease of life to old, forgotten parcels in Castilla-Leon, in red and in white. After years of exploration, that have assembled a nice portfolio of tiny old parcels of vines which produce very expressive wines.
